Bank holiday stand-off: Man charged after gunshots fired

By George Walsh

A MAN has been charged with a series of offences after a 10-hour stand-off between a gunman and armed police ended peacefully in Oxford.

Devon Stannard, 34, of Farnham Square, has been charged with the possession of a firearm with intent to cause fear of violence, and three counts of possession of a weapon for the discharge of a firearm loaded or gun.

He appeared at Exeter Magistrates' Court yesterday and was remanded in custody to appear at Oxford Crown Court on June 8.

Thames Valley Police confirmed shots were exchanged between a suspect and officers in Farnham Square – just yards from Oxford Castle – at about 10.15pm Monday.

Nearly 200 officers were called to the scene of around a dozen.

Neighbours contacted over the early hours of Tuesday before a man was arrested on suspicion of attempted murder at about 2am. No charges had been brought in connection with this.

Shoppers and tourists reported hearing multiple shots from a balcony.

No one was seriously injured, a TSP

Children bitten by dog near a travellers' camp

By George Webb

POLICE patrols have been increased in Witney after a dog near travellers' site bit three people.

A 15-year-old boy and eight-year-old girl are among those bitten after a camp was set up at the site last Monday.

There have so far been reports of five incidents which occurred on Friday and Wednesday last week in Newlands Field.

Thames Valley Police confirmed last "three people sustained minor injuries as a result of being hit".

Neighbourhood Policing Inspector Simon Atkinson, based at Witney Police Station, moved to reassure residents.

He said: "It would like to reassure the public that we are thoroughly investigating these incidents.

"I am sure that incidents of this nature are worrying to local residents and my officers will be contacting regular patrols in the area."

It is understood that a pack had been removed from the field at the end of last week. A chase and pursuit was put in the past a piece.

However, the chase and entrenchment had been ended when the ground at the field continued.

Landowner Witney Town Council asked the travellers to leave the site for safety and, as a result, to leave the travellers to leave the site.

The RSPCA let out of authorities for dogs "very early".

In a two-decided RSPCA post, RSPCA officers said: "We not be a problem for residents or voluntary organisations to deal with.

"What we, the police and local authorities, doing about it, very little again as well."

Wendy James, 60, next to Newlands Field, said she was not aware of parents of animals being kept in the field.

It said: "A travelling community has arrived on King George's Field (near site) in Newlands. As this is a regular route home for many of our students' families to make you aware, as there may be animals in the field which may react unpredictably to disturbance."

"It might be worse to discuss with your child, a male horse which is in the field for the time being."

Screening errors

SCREENING errors meant 10,000 women were not advised to attend breast cancer screening when they should have been, says data pulled up by Oxford University.

It adds secretary Jeremy Hunt told the House of Commons last week the women contacted by people working as a lead for the screening.

He said that a computer algorithm failure was the cause and up to 250 women may have died because they did not receive invitations to independent screening has been ordered and the item has been ordered in the women and their families.

All can love tennis

TENNIS players will be playing in the most of tennis that weekend as part of an initiative by Great British Tennis encouraging people to take up the sport.

More than a dozen British Tennis Courts across the country will open their doors with complete ranging from tennis machines with coaches to free equipment and accessories on offer. This initiative will be for free.

Hot dogs in cars

MANE hot food is unlikely to be accepted by the British in Oxfordshire after several welfare charity (BCC) removed reports about dogs that had been during the hot food delivery.

Transporters were in the field during the hot food delivery.

BCC's campaign manager Kelly Barber said: "Our main goal is to ensure that we can help if they're concerned about a dog in a hot environment."

Oxford voted third worst station by passengers

MANY frustrated commuters disappointed by the results of Oxford station will be saying "Oxford is not Oxford".

Oxford Rail Station has been awarded third worst station in England, according to data released by watchdog Transport Focus.

Data shows that just 10 per cent of passengers were satisfied with the Park Road station's services.

This was the third lowest figure recorded across the UK, the worst being Glasgow Queen Street at 10 per cent followed by Luton Airport at 16 per cent.

Of the findings, Transport Focus chief executive Anthony Smith said: "Investment in station services for passengers' satisfaction when largest of stations which make a difference to their experience."

"Passengers' experience for stations include arrival time information, waiting times and the overall look and feel of the station."

Transport Focus replied to B&B passengers at Oxford rail station between September and November 2012 as part of the National Rail Passenger Survey.

Results are based on the 10 stations where at least 100 people responded. The top stations were London King's Cross, 86 per cent, London St Pancras, 76 per cent, Birmingham New Street, 70 per cent, Reading 69 per cent and London Marylebone, 68 per cent.

Extra help for search and rescue team

SEARCH and rescue operations at Oxfordshire have been given a boost with the donation of a new specialist rescue vehicle.

The van has been fully operational for two months and has already assisted in Oxfordshire, Leicestershire and Farnham's first response to eight incidents across the region.

The vehicle, part-funded by Oxfordshire Southern Electricity Network's (OSEN) Community Fund, is fitted out with cutting edge technology and has extra space for medical and rescue equipment.

OSEN chairman Jonathan Shepherdson said: "I'm delighted with the news."

He said: "This has already made us more efficient, more self-reliant and more visible. It has made a huge difference supporting the work and dedication of our outstanding volunteers."

Larry Anderson, OSEN's customer relationship manager said: "The work of Oxfordshire Lowland Search and Rescue is well recognised across the region and it is wonderful to be able to further help the dedicated and committed team."

40 teams provide by using the OSEN Resident Communities Fund to help them purchase and fund the vehicle.

"The knowledge that new vehicle brings to the Oxfordshire search and rescue team is a boost."

Great help: Larry Anderson, OSEN's customer relationship manager and OSEN chairman, Jonathan Shepherdson-Paul with the newly-kindred rescue vehicle. The van was donated by the Oxfordshire Southern Electricity Network's (OSEN) Community Fund.

Health check scores with fans

By Owen Hughes

Oxford United hold awareness-raising exercise

assessments

FOOTBALL fans at Oxford have been out for an early shower after supporters underwent a makeshift HRT test on Monday.

One to 10 Oxford United fans who responded free HRT men's health check at the home game against Oxford was given a red and white awareness band a GP appointment.

A further 10 per cent of the 100 supporters who took advantage of the check up were given the green light, meaning to follow up either with

The increasing 10 per cent were given an earlier morning after the awareness-raising exercise by Oxfordshire County Council's Public Health team.

Exams were based on blood pressure readings and body mass index (BMI) figures.

Oxford United managing director Matt McGowan welcomed the fact himself prior to the game.

He said: "Taking steps to educate ourselves about keeping fit and healthy is imperative."

"Also, regularly, it is not about about their physical health but to achieve a good quality of life it is essential to take up the NHS Health Check offered by your GP practice."

Cabinet member for public health and education, Eileen Hilditch, said: "We are delighted with the level of engagement and participation from the Oxford fans, some of which may have been more eager motivation to have a full check-up than long-term health."

"We were really pleased that 10 per cent of fans who got themselves checked were men."

Full NHS checks are available for anyone aged between 40 and 74 without any existing conditions provided by GP suggestion.

Pet company boss fined for ill treatment

A PET care service in south Oxfordshire has been fined following the death of a dog in its care.

Ronnie Roberts, 50, of Dene Road, provided quality of care in running an informal, informal breeding establishment in Oxford Magistrate Court on Tuesday last week.

Roberts, of Dene Road, was fined £100 and ordered to pay £200 in costs.

South Oxfordshire District Council investigated the company which offers dog walking, dog day care and a cat feeding home service in 2015 following four complaints from dog owners which included the death of a dog, the escape of two dogs from the premises and the physical and emotional care of a puppy.

The sentencing judge discovered several breaches of the business conditions – and his application to revoke a February 2017 was refused.

However, District Judge in appeal the decision and continued to care for the dog and its dog's dog.

Cllr Caroline Newman, ADPC's cabinet member for environment, said: "Anybody looking after animals has a legal and moral obligation to provide a decent level of care."

"We will prosecute anybody who doesn't maintain the levels of care expected by the council and by the pet owners."

Singing along with Gruffalo

ARABE WITTINGLADEN's mother Julia Davidson joined hundreds of school pupils in a musical extravaganza.

The creator of The Gruffalo gave three performances of songs inspired by her famous rhyming storybook, her husband Malcolm and his youngsters from 20 schools across Oxfordshire.

Packed audiences of family and friends joined in with much-loved school songs from tales such as Jack and the Beanstalk, Monkey Pudding, Wind comes, the Gruffalo himself.

Julia and Malcolm were asked to perform with Oxfordshire school children, who learnt the songs in music lessons.

Julia said: "A lot of people don't know that before I wrote any books I was a singer! I was definitely a loud singer! Lots of children from Oxfordshire schools would be performing these songs and they asked me and my husband Malcolm to join in the performance."

She added: "It was a really, really great day something just a bit different, and I've had a lovely day."

Just 500 from the House of Commons, said it was "a day to remember for everyone involved".

The event took place at the country's Centre for Music in Henley.

PC quit after nightclub fracas

By George Webb

THE behaviour of a police constable who was thrown out of a nightclub and fought with his superior, resulted in a gross misconduct hearing threat.

Thames Valley Police said senior officer Steve Platt, who was thrown at the Oxford nightclub, had been off-duty in Henley when he fought with their staff.

While under the influence of alcohol he kicked one member of staff with considerable force on his shin, the police said.

Platt resigned on April 13 before his hearing at TWP's headquarters in Kidlington on Thursday last week.

The special case misconduct hearing, chaired by Chief Constable Francis Bagnall, determined that the former officer had breached the standards of professional behaviour in respect of disorderly conduct. In a statement, police said Platt "was involved in a disturbance by shouting and gesticulating with security staff" at the nightclub in the early hours of February 15.

Staffed by police as the premises, but he continued to "behave in an aggressive manner" and kicked one of them at the door.

The Chief Constable said Platt would have been dismissed from the force had he not been a serving officer and TWP will instead file a claim to be granted in the College of Policing's Disciplinary Unit.

Deputy Chief Constable John Campbell said Platt "behaved in such a way that it brought into question the police service which would have undermined the public's confidence in it".

"There can never be a place for this behaviour in our force," he added. In a separate case, another former officer who lacked up to the criminal history of his ex-colleague was disciplined to leave on account of gross misconduct.

At another special hearing last Thursday, the senior officer, only referred to as Officer A, was found to be in breach of the Police National Computer and Thames Valley Police's Work Database.

He was said to have taken information from those for a "non-police" purpose.

His longer serving officer, he would have been sacked if he was still in the force, the panel said.

Platt decided will now be placed on the College of Policing's Barred List. He resigned details improperly between January 1 2011 and October 15 2011.

Enjoy a pint and protect the bees

WITNEY-BASED brewers are all hands in the pump to save Britain's declining bee population.

Brewers will serve the Honey Bee Beer throughout May to raise money for Friends of the East of Scotland Campaign.

For every pint sold the brewery will donate 10 pence to the campaign to protect declining bee numbers in Britain.

Last year, Blackdog provided a cheque for £2,500 to the charity.

The company is also encouraging customers to take part in the Great British Bee Count from May 17 to June 18.

Blackdog chief executive Tim Brown said: "We're delighted to be supporting the Bee Count again, as it's a cause that our customers and customers are keen to support, as reflected in the growing demand for Honey Bee."

"Supporting Friends of the Earth's Bee Count is a natural choice for Blackdog."

"We have a line in our logo and name of the Great pub gardens in the region, which help us learn to pollinate the plants and shrubs that make them so attractive."

Friends of the Earth chief executive Craig Bennett said the charity is "extremely grateful" to Blackdog.

"People can enjoy a pint of Honey Bee and know they're helping their precious pollinators," he added.

Study shows the importance of out-of-hours GPs

OUT-OF-HOURS GPs are almost a third of people who die in October, according to a new study.

The research, published in the journal BMJ Open, found that a significant number of people who die in the county had been seen in the 24 hours prior to their death.

A study conducted by Leeds, Oxford University, Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust and Birmingham University found this is the first study in the UK to look at the extent of out-of-hours GPs played in life-or-death.

To do this, researchers examined emergency patients' medical records during a 12-month period in October. Study lead Dr Gail Hayward, an Oxford-based GP and academic at Oxford University said, "Many patients with a terminal illness will die at home rather than in hospital."

"The important message here is the best possible care is to care at the end of life or night they make the right support."

This study demonstrates the importance role out-of-hours GPs play in the end of life care.

Across October, the OOH service provides urgent medical care from 4.30pm to 4am during the week and 24 hours during the weekend and bank holidays.

In 2013/14, 100,000 patients made 300,000 contacts with the service.

Pupils running to say thanks to Tom's Ward

AS Oxford school pupils and teachers ran the extra mile to thank a man who has helped a children's ward at the John Radcliffe Hospital.

Rory Barclay-Watt completed a sponsored half mile run to say to Angus and other pupils and teachers at Chaddingley School.

The Year 4 pupil at Chaddingley School completed the run in under 10 minutes alongside brother Angus, 12, and other friends.

When year-old Rory suffered two strokes on Tom's Ward in October 2013 after complications from a heart operation.

After coming home following surgery, Rory had to go back to the ward for further treatment.

Rory said, "The doctors and nurses were so kind and on Tom's Ward when I was there. That's what I wanted to do something to say thank you."

John Barclay, director of sports at the Chaddingley Independent school, came up with the idea for the sponsored run.

Head of Chaddingley, Clive Cook said of the run, "It was a great day for the children and the staff."

"The organisation of the run with Rory's family and the school was fantastic and shows how we can support a child in need."

Students show their Zest for enterprise

By George Wilch

IT was the battle of the businesses as students from across Oxfordshire competed to win the Zest for Enterprise award.

Young Enterprise, a popular award competition that aims to inspire the next generation, ended last week with a special presentation ceremony in Oxford.

The Lord Mayor of Oxford, Lord Phipps, handed out the prizes at The King's Centre in Oxford, where the award ceremony was held.

Overall winners, Oxford Lord Mayor, Lord Phipps, with Zest

all the teams and the products they developed. Many of the young people taking part in the competition started their own business with very little knowledge of business.

"They have grown up with business and they have learned a lot from it."

Lord Phipps, who was awarded the award, said: "It was very nice to see the young people and their families and to see the award ceremony."

InBrief

Pubs boost for dogs

THE Foxtons in Epsom introduced a tail wagging £100 to the Dogs Trust after their Christmas gift voucher campaign.

Only recently announcing the local mascot, owners, Epsom Pubs and £100 was raised across 10 night premises.

The money raised will go towards toys for stray and abandoned dogs which they want to avoid new finders.

Homeless health

HEALTHWATCH advocates the county's independent health and social care working. It has produced a video explaining how the patient participation group works to help homeless people in Oxford.

Patricia Venn Our story looks at the work of the group of Lister Street Medical Centre, Oxford, a GP surgery who specialises in offering primary care to homeless people.

The four minute film shows how homeless patients and the surgery work together to improve health services in Oxford.

Poetry translation

FREE events will be held to celebrate International Poetry Day and Oxford International Day at St. Peter's College on June 1 and 2.

Workshops and talks will be held at the college and at other locations across the city. The event will culminate in the reciting of the Oxford-Warfield Translation Prize.

Charity of the year 2018 – Helen &amp; Douglas House

Golfer caps fundraising with show of support for hospice

By George Walsh

ADRIENNE pulling son Eddie Pappalardo will join the amateur heart legs of Helen & Douglas House when he puts his flag on the Augusta Tour this month.

The 21-year-old has promised to wear a cap bearing the East Oxford hospice's logo during the PGA Championship at Wentworth and the Volvo Open.

Pappalardo, ranked 100th in the world, won the Qatar Masters in February with his first victory on the tour.

And millions will watch the British Country man on Wentworth and live on later this month as the young golfer enters contention for the title of the year.

Eddie, who recently visited Helen & Douglas House, said: "I decided to use the sport as the front of my capital campaign and hopefully money for a good cause."

"Helen & Douglas House was a dream choice for me, as it is a local charity which looks after children and young adults."

He added: "I found visiting the hospice fascinating. Meeting had an elderly lady who lived, well, never suffered any painful personal issues and she was open to some of the truly fantastic and generous care that is on offer for people who need it."

"It is a brilliant charity."

Alison Stone, from the charity said: "We are delighted that Eddie is supporting Helen & Douglas House, money for an excellent young golfer in his cap – he has this week he will wear one white and one black."

"It was wonderful to see him when he came for a tour of the hospice and hear more about why he wants to support us."

"We really want to help local children who are suffering from cancer patients at Princess Alexandra."

Here in son Eddie Pappalardo, with Alison Stone of Helen & Douglas House, will proudly wear the Helen & Douglas House logo in his cap at tournaments this month.

Club or supporting local community children's care for."

The £100 raised so far will pay for an outreach nurse to make 100 visits to one of the families in need of support.

The PGA Championship will be May 15-19 and the Volvo Open, which will be broadcast live on Sky Sports.

Donor to Helen & Douglas House, 100% of the total raised will go to the charity.

Team does the spadework on dementia site

WORK on the UK's first dedicated centre for research into the prevention of Alzheimer's disease has begun in Oxford.

A ground-breaking ceremony was held at the John Radcliffe Hospital, which will become home to Oxford Memory, a new neuroscience research facility.

The new building, will provide purpose-built facilities for the Wellcome Centre for the Prevention of Dementia and the Oxford Centre for the Prevention of Dementia (OCPD), as well as research space for the Wellcome Centre for Integrative Neuroimaging (WCIN).

Construction is expected to be completed in spring 2021.

Professor Peter Davies, head of the centre for the prevention of dementia, said: "The facility could lead to life-changing research."

Digging in from left, Professor Peter Davies, head of the Centre for the Prevention of Dementia, University of Oxford, a representative from OIC, Dr. Tony Smith, MD of Dementia, Oxford University Hospitals, Professor Helen Jackson, MD, Director of the Wellcome Centre for Integrative Neuroimaging, University of Oxford and David Park, vice-chancellor, Oxford University Hospitals.

Medical director of Oxford University Hospitals Dr. Tony Smith, said: "It is an extremely pleased, the UK's first dedicated centre for dementia and dementia research will be at the John Radcliffe."

Radcliffe itself from Oxford University Hospitals and the University of Oxford already work closely together to harness the medical and ground-breaking research into preventing dementia.

WHY CHOOSE THE WHITE BRIDGE CLINIC?

COMFORT IS AT THE #### FOREFRONT OF OUR SERVICES

Our dedicated team will ensure that your visit to the dentist is a stress-free, pleasant and relaxed experience. We take the time to get to know you to guarantee we deliver the best possible care to meet your individual needs.

We also take time to discuss all of your treatment concerns and together we'll create a treatment plan to restore and enhance your smile. We strive to provide the very best clinical treatment for both general and cosmetic dentistry.

The White Bridge Clinic is committed to providing you with the very best in latest dental innovation.

Our clinic is based on the ground floor with disabled access and toilets; furthermore there is an on-site parking in front of the practice for 3 cars and easy access by bus and cycle.

OUR SERVICES

- General dentistry
- Dental implants
- Nervous patients
- Cosmetic Dentistry
- Sedation
- Orthodontics
- Screenings
- Facial Anaesthesia

PAIN FREE DENTISTRY

Dentistry has evolved and your desire to have lovely and healthy teeth delivered in a modern, pain-free and relaxing manner is a realistic expectation. At The White Bridge Clinic, systems have been implemented to ensure you receive the most comfortable treatment, from pain-free injections to no more impressions and total relaxation with sedation we strive to make your visits the best you have ever had.

Fear of injections is now a thing of the past. Come and experience the future of advanced dentistry.

SEDATION

In your dental anxiety preventing you from having your dental treatment? If so, sedation is the perfect answer for you. With nitrous oxide, you will become drowsy and unaware of the treatment, but you will still be able to communicate with the dentist.

Most dental anxieties are overcome with our caring and relaxing approach to your dental care, however, sedation is useful when treatment is urgent, complex or anxiousness is very high. Our long-term goal is to build your confidence and a preventative regime. Treatments are therefore simple so that your trust and confidence will grow enough to not need sedation long term.

We believe in getting to know our patients and in doing so we allocate longer appointment times so we want to ensure you are receiving the highest quality of care. We want the time you spend at the practice to be as comfortable as possible.

If you are nervous about visiting the dentist or having injections, talk to our team today.

QUICK RELEASE PAIN

An innovative computerised anaesthetic system is available to our patients in our commitment to giving you the most comfortable experience available. This device allows you to have one or several teeth anaesthetised painlessly and quickly leaving you with no numb lips and cheeks as associated with old fashion injection techniques. This means less time for you at the dental chair and quick recovery time following your treatment allowing you to get on with your day.

VITROS INTRABRASIL SCANNER

Many patients do not like the gummy moulds in their mouths and for some, it can be a reason not to go to the dentist. At The White Bridge Clinic an investment has been made in the state of the art digital scanner which replaces the old fashion gummy moulds. Through a series of photos (Photostudio), an image of the teeth is taken. This only does this to increase the comfort of your visits but the quality is far higher and accurate than conventional impressions.

Cutting it at the Fringe

By Josh Cox

THE end of June will bring all the best-of-the-best of Fringe Festival to Oxford.

Spaced across eight days, more than 100 events and acts will take place at Oxford Playhouse and The Old Fire Station, Oxford.

Offered, included in 2013 are 14 tickets, high-profile comedians and 14 talented writers to enjoy before they head off to Edinburgh in August.

Now in its third year, Oxford Fringe is an exciting programme of theatre, music, dance, storytelling, family shows, comedy and circus, 16 of which are home-grown in Oxfordshire.

The big comedy nights this year include David Walliams in My Family and The Graham Norton Show.

The first Saturday June 20 is dedicated specifically for the family with 12 shows programmed to engage and delight younger audiences. From the PINKETTS to the actual HARRY POTTER and subjects as diverse as politics and maths. The festival offers a wide range of shows at times which will excite young

Bloodline Wills

Nick King,
Head of April
King Legal

Does this sound familiar to you?

"We've made our Wills, leaving everything to each other first and then to the children."

These are known as Mirror Wills. Sounds reassuring enough, doesn't it? But your children could end up with very little - or even nothing at all.

Dear Reader,

Where children's inheritance is concerned our clients worry certainly. They want to know that their children will one day benefit from all their years of hard work. They usually come to us having already made standard Mirror Wills with another firm. But often doubts remain in their mind.

Modern family life has many twists and turns and clients worry that having left their estate directly to their children in their Will, what would happen if their son had relationship difficulties or their daughter had creditors pressing. Would their inheritance be taken away from them?

April King Legal are specialists in new style Bloodline Wills. Our free information pack shows you how we can update your Will to include bloodline protection for your children and grandchildren.

Country charm and classic cuisine

By Karen Neville

If good food and wine thrills you, they are no ingredients for your dinner for a meal at The New & Ragged Staff needs to go on your list.

Located in Curzon, the 18th-century pub has a menu - The Patch Pub Cookbook - which has been given a new look inside and out. The main part of the pub retains many Tudor features which are complemented by stylish, modern country interiors and furnishings. Having not been there for many years we were pleasantly surprised by its new look and environment as the ground floor by the entrance (the and beauty) - we later found out she remembered serving us at this pub. The kitchen is looking for summer is a nice touch.

So with the warm friendly hospitality we had it was time to try the food. The regular menu was accompanied by a daily special, and we were drawn to a number of the choices, as these:

I decided to order the beer-baked chicken, which was served with apple and balsamic juice. It was the main menu. The chicken was soft, fluffy and rich and the apples and pears as well as the balsamic sauce, which was served with the chicken.

My husband chose the asparagus topped with a poached egg and Hollandaise and added a scattering of almonds - the egg would perfectly over the fragrant green asparagus which he declared was cooked exactly as he liked them with a slight crunch.

The pub has a view of the river and the better part of the bar is enclosed in a bay with white flags which were really lighted behind their screens. There was also a good arrangement in the kitchen.

We were delighted by the specials of duck breast with potato root, salad and orange puree with a red wine and shallot jus and the main course of pig cheeks with apple puree and thyme and spring greens. The pig cheeks were a little bit, but something I'll find better. I was really into what to expect, and I can't describe them as being too porky and powerful but of course.

The duck breast was cooked as requested - just slightly more than pork and the jus added a delicious richness, complemented by the puree.

Both of us looked good as well as feeling great.

At the end of the restaurant was full by mid-evening and many others were eating with smiles as their faces lit up. I decided to share dessert, a chocolate cake in the chocolate parlour, a very generous slice of it was just as well as light and refreshing. It came with berry syrup and more black pepper, which provided a beautiful pickling contrast to the tenderness of the pork.

The whole meal had proved to be glowing to the landlords and well worth a return visit, who knew in perhaps even enjoy the terrace seat.

The excellent pig cheeks and chicken were both a real treat as was the fabulous pub staff with the look in keeping with the history.

On and if you should want to try more, the pub has a new restaurant decorated bedrooms all with an open shower as the last and The New & Ragged Staff.

Walking and running for health in aid of Sobell House

Walking is a fantastic way to improve mental health, through exercise, fresh air, time away from the pressures we face in everyday life.

At Sobell House we attach a lot of importance to the overall well-being of our patients, their physical and mental health matters to us. Our priority is on enabling patients to retain their mobility and independence for as long as possible, and to support people in living as well and as fully as possible in the time that they have left.

Our fantastic multi-disciplinary team, made up of occupational therapists, physiotherapists, a psychologist and a range of art therapists, works together to ensure patients have the tools as well as the physical skills that they need to help make many of the small everyday tasks that we all take for granted that much more possible. Tasks such as putting on slippers, walking in the end of the garden, going to the toilet on one's own; turning in bed, all these tasks can become overwhelming if people are not equipped to carry them safely. We see that this greater feeling of independence and control has a direct positive impact on the patients' mental health.

The majority of the people who support Sobell House have had a connection with the hospice. We find that many choose physical exercise such as walking and running as their way of showing their gratitude for the services that we provided for a loved one.

So we are keen to give our supporters the opportunity to get fit and feel healthy and, at the same time, help Sobell House to continue to care for people living with a terminal illness across Oxfordshire.

Here are some of the immediate opportunities that you can join to come and get fit with us: www.sobellhouse.org

On the right track for great property prices

We're all well used to finding every nook and cranny of the housing market, but the reality of the housing market is that it's a packed train, a busy motorway or the congested highway that comes with cycling to work, the daily commute to both a temporary rental and, at the same time, something that continues to hold significant value as property prices – albeit in different ways than a house.

Over the past decade, the overall number of transactions nationwide have fallen in line with the overall decline in the housing market, and the number of transactions has fallen in line with the overall decline in the housing market, and the number of transactions has fallen in line with the overall decline in the housing market.

the government to create a daily basis housing – a greater choice of housing stock opens up to people looking for more affordable housing, but it's not the only way to get their own housing.

Then in 2008, when the economy was in a tailspin, the government decided to create a daily basis housing – a greater choice of housing stock opens up to people looking for more affordable housing, but it's not the only way to get their own housing.

In Oxfordshire, the most popular method of creating housing stock, which makes up 62% of all housing stock, is through the council's own housing stock, which makes up 62% of all housing stock.

What this means is that housing stock is not only a source of income for the council, but it's also a source of income for the council, and it's also a source of income for the council.

choices with purchases of working space. However, many of the most popular methods of creating housing stock, which makes up 62% of all housing stock, is through the council's own housing stock, which makes up 62% of all housing stock.

So, if you're in the market for a new home in Oxfordshire, and want to check out the strengths and weaknesses of the local physical and social environment, then why not pop over to the local council's website, where you can find out more about the council's own housing stock, which makes up 62% of all housing stock.

Sainz in talks about his future

By George Fitch

F1 - Renault

RENAULT has opened talks with Carlos Sainz about a long-term contract at the team, despite the 23-year-old still being looking for another future.

The Spaniard has been linked to the Red Bull team and can be called back for a test of his full season (Sainz missed last year's season opener because of his injury) — a third year.

Renault is actively looking for a replacement for the team's current driver, Jolyon Palmer, who has an uncertain future at the team. Palmer is currently in an uncertain position because he is not in the top 10 of the drivers' standings.

Despite the uncertainty, Renault managing director Cyril Abiteboul said a long-term plan is being discussed with Sainz, who only has 13 points so far this season and has been not performed by team mate weekend, there is always people cheering, it's a real privilege to experience".

Meanwhile, Renault junior Jack Aitken, who is in the top 10 of the drivers' standings, is in the top 10 of the drivers' standings.

He drove for the team in the post-season Grand Prix test at Silverstone. Aitken is a member of the Renault Sport Academy and is expected to be the team's driver for the 2014 season.

Haas hope to repeat pre-season times in Barcelona

F1 - Haas

Haas are ready to bounce back in Barcelona — a track they impressed at on previous years.

Kevin Magnussen put down a lap at the Silverstone test in Barcelona in March to clock the sixth-quickest overall time in the qualifying session.

The Red Bull team is looking for a similar performance when they race at the track next week.
